About

THE CREATIVE TEAMS BEHIND MARVEL, DC AND EVEN THE BEANO HAD BETTER WATCH THEIR BACKS – THERE'S A NEW COMIC CREW ON THE SCENE; A LIVELY BUNCH OF YEAR 5 AND 6 STUDENTS FROM INGS PRIMARY SCHOOL.

WORKING WITH MALET LAMBERT, THESE STUDENTS CREATED A VICTORIOUS SUPERHERO AND DEVELOPED THE STORYBOARD, DESIGN AND PRODUCTION OF A PROFESSIONAL COMIC STRIP.

THEIR INITIAL IDEAS, SKETCHES AND CONCEPTS WERE TAKEN AWAY AND TRANSFORMED BY OUR ILLUSTRATOR, TONY, TO RESULT IN THE FINAL COLLECTIONS WITHIN THIS MAGAZINE.

SKILLS DEVELOPED: TEAMWORK, COMMUNICATION, CREATIVE WRITING, TIME MANAGEMENT AND ALL CORE LITERACY ELEMENTS.

SUPERHUMAN AND THE SPIDEREENOE

By James

Superhuman was strolling along on the opposite side of the road to Malet Lambert school when he saw the children running out! "There's a giant spider in our school", screamed one girl. Superhuman knew he had to save the day. He ran into the school and saw a giant, furry, ugly spider – Spidereenoe, crawling around the library. He cornered the gigantic spider. Trembling with fear, Superhuman mustered up all of his courage and strength. He knocked over a complete wall in the direction of the big, furry spider. Spidereenoe was trapped under the rubble. Superhuman was the hero and had saved the day, again!

SUPER STAR AND TUNA TINY

By Emily Hatton

One beautiful day at Malet Lambert, Super Star was making dresses with some of the students. Everything was lovely and quiet.

It suddenly smelt funny, as Tuna Tiny got closer to them. "Hahahaha, I'm going to eat your children! Muahahaha!" Cried Tuna Tiny.

"Here smelly tuna, want some make up on? Here!" Super Star then smeared poisonous lipstick all over Tuna Tiny's face. The tuna jumped in pain and disappeared.

All of a sudden Super Star saw someone out of the corner of her eye. "Oh no!" cried Super Star. "It's Tuna Tiny, run!" Everyone turned to see Tuna Tiny coming towards them.

"Noooo! I'm not going to let you!" Cried Super Star as she jumped into action. She raced across the classroom towards Tuna Tiny.

All the children shouted and cheered with joy. The day had been saved by Super Star and everyone got back to making dresses.

THE MOVING METEOR

By Amber

The students were having fun at the Malet Lambert football fair. However, Crusher hated seeing people having fun and was determined to make sure that he put an end to the football, the goals and the cheers! "My master plan is to throw meteors at the football fair...that should do the job" he cried. As the meteors began to head for the fair, people started to run everywhere - scared and screaming. In a flash, Super Banana appeared and flew into the middle of the field. He mustered up all of his special superhero powers and forced the shower of falling meteors away from the direction of the fair and back towards crusher. Using just his hands and all of his strength, Banana Man had managed to stop the meteors from ruining the fair and diverted them back to crush Crusher! "You've saved the day!" screamed the delighted students, and the Malet Lambert football fair was able to continue once more.

MRS PUFFYFLY

By Clarissa & Chanel

One sunny day in Hull, Mrs Puffyfly was teaching the school children to fly. The children were all laughing because they knew they couldn't fly without wings like Mrs Puffyfly.

Meanwhile, Smartziller was planning an evil plan. Her plan was to hypnotise all the children and make them do what she wanted. Smartziller flew down and started to hypnotise the children with maths.

Mrs Puffyfly saw this was happening and knew she had to stop it. She flew as fast as she could towards Smartziller and the children, to stop them being hypnotised.

Mrs Puffyfly used her wand to snap the children out of their spell. The children snapped out of the spell and watched as Mrs Puffyfly flew after Smartziller.

Mrs Puffyfly caught up to Smartziller and she fired glitter at Smartziller to trap her so she couldn't hypnotise any other children.

Mrs Puffyfly then used her rainbow power to transport Smartziller to jail. The day was saved by Mrs Puffyfly and everyone was happy.

SUPER SEA KING

By Martin

It was the Malet Lambert school fair and everyone was having a fantastic time. Sea King was the star attraction - showing off his amazing swimming and flying skills. Meanwhile, Lava King was ready to put into place his evil plan to drop a red hot lava bomb on the fair to evaporate all of the water and stop Sea King from being able to swim! Suddenly, Lava King launched his lava bomb, but Sea King was quick to react. A huge battle erupted. Smoke, stars and bangs erupted all around. "KAPOW", "CRASH!" Within a flash, Sea King blasted water out of his hands into the face of Lava King - he began to freeze! The students were safe, Sea King had frozen Lava King into a large ice cube block. He put his defeated enemy in the middle of the school field as a lesson to everyone. "Don't try and ruin our Summer Fair" he yelled.

THE EVIL DUCK

By Rachel Duong

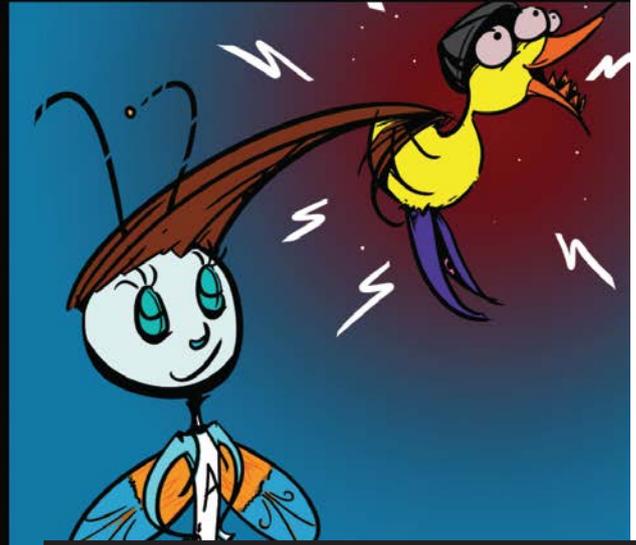

It was a lovely sunny day and The Angel decided she would get out of her volcano. The Angel flew high into the sky and started to head towards Hull.

The Angel was an undercover superhero, when she was in disguise her human name was Julie. She flew to Malet Lambert to teach there.

Whenever The Duck was thinking of stealing anything, he would turn into a horrible beast with three eyes and sharp teeth.

When The Angel was there she saw The Duck, he was an evil duck who stole from everyone. He was running round hypnotising all the police with his cuteness, so that he could steal a massive ruby.

All of a sudden The Angel jumped out and surprised him. She grabbed him straight away so he couldn't escape. The day was saved by The Angel and The Duck went to jail where he had to clean all 2,000 toilets inside.

BOOGIE MAN

By Belle

It was the Malet Lambert leaving party and Boogie Man had won the music competition. However, back at 'Boring Ville', Party Pooper Pete and his side kick Banana Man were planning to destroy the whole party, they hated music and fun! In a flash, Party Pooper Pete flew into the school and cut the music cable - suddenly there was silence. "Mwahahah", he cried. The crowd all began to boo and jeer. Just then, Boogie Man appeared from nowhere. "I'll stop him" he shouted, at the top of his voice. Boogie Man stared right into the eyes of Party Pooper Pete, and began to hypnotise him. "You will dance, have fun and be happy!" Boogie Man said as the frown on Party Pooper Pete's face slowly turned into a smile. In a flash, they both started to move their feet, found their rhythm and danced the night away!

SUPER STRETCH SAVES SCIENCE

By Toni

Super Stretch was at Malet Lambert for a full day, teaching Science to the Year 7 students. Elsewhere, Dr. Evil was looking through his 'terrible telescope' and spotted Super Stretch. Dr. Evil hated anyone learning anything that may mean, one day, they could become more intelligent than him. "I have to stop that Super Stretch from teaching those students anything new!" he cried. As the class left the lab for lunch, Dr. Evil snook into the room and planted one of his 'Stink Bombs' in the cupboard. Super Stretch was watching him the whole time. She didn't want the class to be stunk out, having smelly hair and uniforms, and needed to show Dr. Evil that she wouldn't tolerate this. Before Dr. Evil could even think about escaping, she unrolled her stretchy arms and wrapped them around his body. She mustered up all of her strength and launched Dr. Evil high into the sky - and into space! She then grabbed hold of the 'Stink Bomb' and stretched out her legs to kick it into the direction of Dr. Evil!

The students were safe, and Dr. Evil was left floating in space, with his trusty 'Stink Bomb' by his smelly side.
