

My Transition

I was the only child from my Primary School who was going to Malet Lambert. In the months running up to starting Malet, I was quite worried and nervous about the thought of moving from a small primary school to a very big school. My main worry was that I may not know how to get from class to class and get lost. I was also worried and sad about missing my primary school friends, but excited and also nervous about meeting new friends.

One of my worries was that I would get lost going around the school but after my first day I realised I didn't need to worry about that as everyone I met was very friendly and helpful. I felt reassured that there were 2 or 3 staff members in the corridors to ask if you were lost and didn't know where your next classroom was. I never did get lost.

After my first day I had made new friends and the teachers were really nice and helpful. I found within the first week, that there was lunchtime football training, which I did and made more new friends.

Although I was going to miss my primary school mates I knew that I was ready for secondary school. The advice I would give to new pupils starting Malet would be, don't be nervous and don't be shy. Try to get involved.

I soon realised that there was nothing to worry about. There are always plenty of people there to help you and you will soon make lots of new friends.
